

CEREBRAL NEBULA

Vol. 1, #5

CEREBRAL NEBULA

21 June 1967

Buy CEREBRAL NEBULAS where you work or play.

? ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ?
The CEREBRAL NEBULA is a Journal of Postal Diplomacy (a registered trademark of Games Research, Inc., 48 Wareham St., Boston, Mass. 02118)
The editor is Greg Long

3526 S.W. 112
Seattle, Wash. 98146

All correspondence should be directed to the editor unless otherwise noted. Any literary contributions are particularly solicited although the ed. reserves the right to edit, condense, or sneak in nasty little comments so no one will understand whats going on.

Games fees are $2.00 for all games variant or otherwise (unless the the game is a super-variant or a lesser-variant). Team games are $1.00 per player. Zine sells for $1.00 per 10 issues.

NOTE: The name of this zine is not Cerebral Nebulae (euchhhh!) and Douglas Beyerlein is not the person to get in touch with if you want to enter a game or speak your mind. Other gamesmasters certainly can be cruel with respect to the above.

1967J
Winter 1901

HAPPYNESS IS TO BUILD

ENGLAND (Evans): Build F London

GERMANY (Metzger): Build A Munich & F Kiel

FRANCE (Peery): constant

ITALY (Hueston): Build F Naples

AUSTRIA*HUNGARY (Alden): Build A Trieste & A Budepest

RUSSIA (Rosenbaum): Build F St. Petersburg (n.c.) & F Sev.

TURKEY (Tzudiker): Build A Ankara

Moves for Spring 1901 are due July 18, 1967. Get moves to me: Greg Long 3526 S.W. 112, Seattle, Wash. 98146
I have also been informed that Richard Metzger has gone to his Summer home somewhere in Tacoma. When I learn of his new location I'll sent carbon copies of it to all people in 1967J.

PRESS RELEASES
-1967J

Constantinople: The quality of understanding that characterizes Her Majesty Sarah F. Allen is based on a strong foundation of good upbringing, strong family ties, a Christian background, and an adherence to the precept- "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

1967T (CN#2)
Fall 1901

egsq edf nmt jant, -erom

AUSTRIA MOVETH NORTH
FRANCE MOVETH NILL

ENGLAND : F Eng.- Brest; A York-Norway; F North (C) A York-Norway
(Turner)

FRANCE: No moves received, all units hold (see below)
(Alexander)

GERMANY: F Holl.(S) A Ruhr-Bel; A Ruhr-Bel; A Mun-Burg.
(Haggert)

ITALY : A Ven- Trieste; A Tyr. (S) A Ven- Trieste; F Tyrr.- Tunis (TURK)

RUSSIA: A Ukr.- Rum; F Sev & A Gal (S) A Ukr- Rum.; F Gof Both- Swed.
(Baker)

AUSTRIA: A Vienna- Boh; A Bud- Vienna; F Trieste-Adr.
(Gemignani)

TURKEY: F Ankara- Black Sea; A Armenia- Sev.; A Bul- Rum.
(Wagner)

Center positions:

England: 3 home & Norway (4) - Build 1
France: 3 home (3) constant Germany: 3 home & Bel & Hol (5) - Build 2
Italy: 3 home, Trieste, & Tunis (5) build 2
RUSSIA: Vienna, Bud, ~~Tyrr~~ (2) remove 1
Russia: 4 home, Rum, & Swed (6) - Build 2
Turkey: 3 home, Bulg (4) - Build 1

Winter 1901 builds are due July 18, 1967. To- Greg Long, etc., etc.

Spring '02 moves due July 18

Note: Charles Turner's new address: 24 Boyd Ct., Pleasant Hill, Calif. 94523
Also, taking over FRANCE is our own Bill Stewart 3223 S.W. 60th.
Seattle, Wash. 98116

PRESS RELEASESSSSSS

Constantinople (September 4, 1901): Nasty Russianses! Why attack peaceful Turkisssh shipses in Black Sea? Thiss viciousss attack will not be forgotten Nooo precious! Nasty Russiansss will be sorry next year. Y

Vienna: Austria is receiving details for Turkey, Italy, & many on an important matter of International Health- theirs. The nat- making the best offer has the best chance of improving its health. The Turkish government is remarked of its lack od ambition in the Balkans. It is beleive with proper negotiations, Turkey and Austria can settle their spears of influence.

Of recent their has been some talk of Miss. Gemignani running her own zine.
Xenodogic first posed the question and now Margaret has asked me for my opinion. Reply- shure, as long as it isn't written.

CW #3
  NEW GAME **
 1900

ENGLAND: Louis Gailor
 41-15 45th St.
 Long Island City, N.Y. 11104

FRANCE: W. Gerald White 4004 S.E. Pine St.
 Portland, Oregon 97214

GERMANY: Stephen Hueston
 Box 25
 Zenith, Wash. 98073

ITALY: James Munroe After July 1: 1315 S. El Molino 630 W. Duarte Rd. (71) Ave, Pasadena, Calif.
 Monrovia, Calif. 91016 91106

AUSTRIA: Charles Brannan 3044A Telegraph Ave.
 Berkeley, Calif. 94705

RUSSIA: Mark Lyon Note: Capt. Rodney Walker
 4885 Shoreline Dr. TUSLOG Det. 183
 Salem, Ore. 97303 APO New York, N.Y. 09254 ((must be sent AIR MAIL)) will be temporary player for Mark as Mr. Lyon will miss the first two weeks of diploming. I suggest mail be sent to both addresses.

TURKEY: Margaret Gemignani
 67 Windemere Road
 Rochester, New York 14610

Game fee of $2.00, if not already paid, must be paid by Spring move.
 Deadline for Spring 1901 move is 18 July 1967. Send moves to Doug Beyerlein, 3934 S.W. Southern, Seattle, Wash. 98116

VARIANTS LEFT AND RIGHT

The following is an article which is continued from last issue.
Capt. Rodney C. Walker, TUSLOG Det. 183, APO New York, N.Y. 09254

Now, how do I go about designing a game? I just finished an article on that for Strategy & Tactics, so I won't go into too much detail.
 First, I believe that a game must have relevance and credibility. So I first pick an historical period which is fairlywell knownand one in which several Great Powers may reasonably be postulated. I sketech them out on a map to see how they balance each other. I then decide things like, how many empty provinces to how many supply provinces (ratio), whether sea or land power should dominate (or play balance), and what unique historical circumstances existed in that period which could be made into interesting rules. I don't believe in merelly using the original Dippy rules, but always adding a few things to them -- like cavalry and heavy infantry in Imperialism XI. After this, I determine how many home supply centers there are to be, and then I locate them at the population centers of the time. I then proceed to draw province boundaries and add neutral centers where they would logically be at the time and place of the game.
 What happens now is largely a matter of trial and error. I put pieces on my draft board and play out the first two or three years of the game.
 several times, each time assuming different strategies and alliance patterns on the part of the player. What I wish to achieve is a situation in which, under ideal circumstances, growth rates of the powers are approximately equal, (2) several neutral supply centers are suggested, but each power has a choice of good strategies and equally good directions to go, (3) each power is in a good defensive position for the early part of the game, except under a situation in which all its neighbors conspire against it

cont.

(4) every aggressive alliance of 2 or 3 powers can be countered by an alliance of the same size with equal effect (assuming the players do their homework--i.e., diplomacy), (5) no player is forced into a given strategy by mere design factors-- unless geographical circumstances would dictate such factors. If I achieve these goals, then I have a balanced game design which will allow the skill of the players to determine the outcome of the game.

What do I plan in the future? First, Charlie Turner and I are working on two games as co-designers, and both of them look promising. One is a world-wide game for quite a few players (more than a dozen) which begins in 1861. The other is a game which begins in 2001 and features air power, nuclear weapons, influence, and a number of other factors which will make it a fantastically complicated game. It will be the first attempt I know of to combine the Avalon-Hill "hexagonal square" movement system with the Diplomacy "supply center" concept-- it may wind up so designed as to be a 3-dimensional game which features and emphasizes strategy, and tactics to an equal degree, which is not true of Dippy, which emphasizes strategy, or the AH games, which concentrate on tactics. Both of these games are a long way from completion, and will take quite a while, since two people are working on them. I might add that Charlie Turner is an excellent man to work with, being very receptive to ideas and yet full of original thought himself. I do not plan to design any games myself in the near future, unless I go back to the rough sketches I have of a game which involves the United States alone and which begins in 2201 A.D., at a time when the central government is disintegrating and the Governors of the States are fighting for the Presidency!

Larry Peery Esq., 5834 Estelle St., San Diego, Calif. 92115; Mr. Peery has expressed the hope that I print the following: "I have a comment for printing on A-H games: I consider the various A-H games to be nothing more than shooting crap games and as such unworthy of serious consideration by any respectable Diplomacy player. I have only played the Battle of the Bulge game and found it rather dull."

"Well, that's your opinion Larry, but it certainly isn't mine. I don't think that only one game would give you enough of a background to make the comment that the various AH games is nothing but crap shooting. The dei in the AH games is merely a means of transcribing odds (in the form of calculated risks, etc.) into a useable form. Rather than go into this any further I'll conduct a poll; all readers are asked for an opinion on Larry's little comment, pro or con, and why. Had it not been for AH games I might never have gotten into the Postal Field of Diplomacy. As I recall, Derek Nelson first planted the seeds of interest while on one of his "tours." Derek found our names out of the AH General sometime in '65 (I'm hardly an oldtimer in Diplomacy) and proceeded from there.

... fans lets hear these replies.

The following was taken from Erehwon: "From Larry Peery, San Diego, Calif: 'I would like to see (since I am a new player) a column of some type by a recognized expert ((here I am Larry)) (or at least someone who has won a game ((hmmm?))-- I've never met anybody who has) that would serve the same function as a chess column. A sort of background review of the game, as well as discussions of past and present games, by a player but an outsider who could editorialize on what is going on and perhaps interpret moves as well as discuss alternate possibilities.'" ((Well, here I am Larry. Now, what's your first problem?))

© Letters To The Ed. @

Larry Peery "Thanks for the list of people I insulted, I'm glad."

Charles Reinsel "Sincerely, Chas."

Nauss "You have as much problems with mimio as I do with ... etc."

Charles Turner "Best (except in VE2)"

In accordance with our announcement policy the following is ripe for publication:

Panzerfaust, a new wargaming publication has arrived. Now in its third big issue, Panzerfaust is drumming nationwide acclaim. Patterned after the AB General its biggest asset is its size. Now 16 pages long, it plans to expand to 30 before the current year ends. Regular editors are Jared Johnson, Donald Greenwood, John Bancourt, among others. Contributing editors plus important wargaming news bring this publication up to size. Cost is $2 per 8 issue year or 50¢ per issue.

Write Donald Greenwood, Box 280 RD#2, Sayre, OK, 73684

From Mr. Greenwood: "You are the recipient of this letter chiefly because you were gracious enough to extent to me a free sample of your Diplomacy magazine and I found it to be one of the 5 best of the numerous samples I received. You may rest assured that when I enter the ranks of the Diplomacy players that I will subscribe to your magazine."

The following is from the latest Diplomania (16/17):

Chaos -- This is played exactly like Regular Diplomacy, except that each of the seven players submits seven complete sets of orders (one for each country) each turn, which are drawn from a hat by the GM, and used as the orders governing the movement of the pieces on the game-board. Thus, each player has one chance in seven each turn of his orders being drawn. The players (unless they fantastic good luck) to do well in this game must rely heavily upon Diplomacy"... "The real problem in this game as we see it will be to get the game over -- it will go on forever (unless a fantastic streak of luck accidentally pushes someone over the top), with the lead switching back and forth with the players attacking sides against the new leader, unless the players gang up on one person at a time, and knock him out in order to reduce the odds so that their moves are more likely to be drawn. Of course who to knock out is a major problem-- a player certainly wouldn't want to knock out someone who had been writing favorable orders for him--but, then, if he were to side with the other five against the unfortunate player, he'd be next...

All the variants in our magazines ((Diplo series)), Chaos ranks as one of the top four or five favorites-- one that would like to play ourselves if someone out there would run a game of it in his magazine. Anyone?????"

We will now be accepting applications for Chaos. Price will only be $2. Sign up now and avoid the rush (it isn't that fancy, is it?).

Another game I'm pushing this issue is Imperialism II. This is the European version for 9 players. Greek states and Persia are included. Features are Persian double-units, loaning of supplies, and modernization. Game is played on map formed by uniting six smaller maps at the price of $5¢. Maps are all dittoed out and are of excellent quality. Maps send $5¢ to either me (gl) or Rod Walker (see page 2). Price $2.00 Unless you enroll for both Chaos and Imp II, in which case I'll only charge $3 for the whole lot.

Excellent Review of other Zines

A.G. Hal Naus, 288 Broadway #139, Chula Vista, Calif. 92010
One more new game being formed at price of $2.50. Also available are T.S. II and Costa II.

ARMAGEDDONIA - James Dygert (glory seeker) and Charles Turner -Ed.
Send queries asking where zine is at to Dygert at 2090 Blackwood Dr.
Vigilant Creek, Calif. 94596; carries variant OMNIBUS and regular and team games. No new games scheduled (?)

more!

Barad-Dry - Jack L. Chalker, 5111 Liberty Heights Ave., Baltimore, M.D. 21207; games are $4

BIG PROTHET- Charles Reinsel, 120 5th Ave., Clarion, Penn. 16214 games $4

BROEDINGMAG- John McCallum, Ralston, Alberta, Canada: Excellent reading zine containing discussions of rules and other aspects of play. No new games at present.

DIPLOMANIA- Leon Miller, 12315 Judson Rd., Wheaton, Md. 20906; storehouse for all of the Diplo games with many other features. Large number of variants run in Miller's games are $3 & $2 after first game.

ERITHVON- Capt. Rodney Walker, TUSLOG Det. #183, APO N.Y. N.Y. 09254 (must be sent air mail.) Large number of variants in World Imperialism series at $2 a game.

GLOCKORIA - Dave Lebling, 3 Rollins Court, Rockville, Md. 20852 variant and regular games at $3 & $2 after first game.

GRAUSTARK- John Boardman, 592 16th St. Brooklyn, N.Y. 11218; Oldest zine and possibly best. Keeps tab on all Diplomacy activity.

HIGH LIVER- Richard Shagrin, c/o Col. Richard Shagrin, 2407-24th Loop
Scandia Base, Albuquerque, N.M. 87116 Economic Diplomacy

INTERNATIONAL DIPLUMAT- Box 14021, University Station, Minneapolis, Minn.
55414; Excellent prose and propaganda, games-$2

KALMAR- Christina Cartier-3044A Telegraph Ave, Berkeley, Calif. 94205 Games $4 first game and reduced rate after. Also Double Xeno space ware fare game and Wild'n Wooly.

MONEYLY MOUNTAIN- Charles Wells, 3678 Lindholm Rd., Cleveland, Ohio, 44120 excellent zine but ed. will be on vacation most of summer. games-none

STAB- John Koning, 318 S. Belle Vista, Youngstown, Ohio, 44509
One of better zines with no new games planned.

XENODOGIC - Peter Peery, 5834 Estelle St., San Diego, Calif. 92115 one of large zines and number of variants. New players pay extra in games by being forced to subscribe to zine instead of normal game fee of $2 or $3.

Thus ends some of the many Diplomacy zines being published.

Thus also ends this issue.

editor: Greg Long
c/o P.O. 112
Seattle, Wash. 98146

gamesmasters: Greg Long & Doug Beyerlein

publisher: Doug Baker

87116
Albuquerque, New Mexico

Scandia Base
24th Loop

c/o Col. Richard Shagrin
Richard Shagrin (8)

Is your dead?

Seattle 98146
3525 SW 112

